But to return to the species of corporeal fubftances. If I fhould afk any one, whether ice and-water were two diftinct fpecies of things, I doubt not but I fhould be an-fwered in the affirmative: and it cannot be denied, but he that fays they are two diftinct fpecies, is in the right. But if an Englifhman, bred in Jamaica, who perhaps had never feen nor heard of ice, coming into England in the winter, find the water he put in his bafon at night, in Vol. II R a great part frozen in the, morning, and not knowing any peculiar name it had, fhould call it hardened watery I afk, whether this would be a ne-w fpecies to him different from water And, I think, it would be answered here, it would not be to him a new fpecies,...
